To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to recommend Nyla O'Brien. Nyla is a mature, intelligent and conscientious student.

I first met Nyla this fall when she enrolled in my Advanced Placement English Literature and Composition course. Our school district resides within Los Angeles County; consequently, we are learning completely online. Nyla made an impression on me immediately because she was working so hard to learn despite the fact that it was all being done over a screen. She is one of only two or three students who turns her camera on each and every day. She is always on time to the meet, always attentive and ready to learn, and she actively participates in class discussions. In addition to this, Nyla is a strong reader and an outstanding writer.

The class of 2021 has sacrificed so much this year. Nyla is a two-sport varsity athlete who has worked tremendously hard. She has won many awards in both soccer and swimming, and yet, she never complains about missing out on athletics during her final year of high school. She is resilient and forward-focused. While many students her age spent the summer frustrated and angry at the pandemic, Nyla spent the time taking online classes in subjects that interest her and researching and virtually visiting colleges and universities.

Nyla O'Brien is mature and thoughtful. She has a solid understanding of her values and on what she wants to achieve as she enters this next stage in her life. I recommend her without reservation and with great enthusiasm.

Sincerely,

Jennifer McElroy
