To Whom It May Concern:

I am eager to recommend Nyla O'Brien, a determined young woman of genuine character, dedicated work ethic, and fervent academic drive. I hold her in high regard as a great student, and great person.

Among her peers, Nyla stands out as the workhorse. In my AP Art History class, Nyla's impressive work ethic was obvious from the start of the year. She was well-prepared, inquisitive, took copious notes in class and out, and studied with a contagious enthusiasm that helped her peers take their studies more seriously as well. When I would pose a question, Nyla was ready with the answer. If Nyla didn't understand something new, she made the immediate effort to ask questions. This perseverance would help her earn a solid A in the class, and a 5 on the AP exam. She consistently holds herself to high standards and never settles for less than what she is capable of achieving.

Though Nyla's academic prowess is apparent and refreshing, it doesn't slow down her involvement with extracurricular interests. While maintaining impeccable grades, Nyla challenges herself with multiple sports, youth groups, and community service ventures. It is rare to find someone who can be so apt and focused across such a multitude of activities, but she does so with poise and pride. Nyla is capable and accountable, precisely the type of person you want in higher level education and the professional work environment.

There is no doubt that Nyla O'Brien will find success in academics and her future career. It was a sincere pleasure to be her teacher, and I look forward to seeing what all of her hard work will yield in her future.

Yours Truly,
